Roger A. Pryor, in relation to Gen. Sherman's movement shortly after he was taken prisoner, was based on a narration of several gentlemen who conversed with him, and this fact was distinctly mentioned in the telegram. The denial of Pryor simply raises a question of veracity between the parties to the conversation, without a reasonable prospect of an early adjustment.

Curro, Dec. 1.

The steamer Luminary, from New Orleans, brings dates to the evening of the 25th. The east wing of the penitentiary at Baton Rouge was burned on the night of the 23d, in consequence of the carelessness of the contraband guard in the building. One hundred and thirty mules, fifty horses, and seventy-five sets of harness, belonging to the military, were destroyed.

the shipping. The Antelope, a river steamer was sunk.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.

Gold steady at 229 to-night.

RIVER NEWS.

The Missouri river is falling from Leavenworth down over six feet on Harpeth Shoals.

to the mouth, with three feet between Leavenworth and Jefferson City, and three and a half feet between Jefferson City and the mouth.

There is a depth of eight and a half feet in the channel from St. Louis out to Calao, and the Lower Mississippi is at a fine stage for steamboating.

WEATHER.—The weather was cool and cloudy yesterday.

BOATS IN PORT.—The following boats were at the wharves:

The Kentucky river packet Wren came in with a big trip. Among other freight she brought 1,600 sacks of wheat, 160 boxes preserves, 80 bales hemp, and 60 bales hay. The Wren returned again to Shakers' Ferry. The Emma arrived from Paducah, crowded with refugees.

The Alpha also arrived from Nashville, crowded with refugees.

The Golden Eagle, bound from Cincinnati for Memphis, arrived. Her officers report that the boat was fired into by guerrillas at Garret's Landing, thirty miles above here.

The Palestine arrived from Nashville, and went up to Cincinnati for repairs.

The wreck of the sunken steamer Dime is to be sold at Madison to-morrow morning, as it lies at our wharf. Capt. Pinckney Varble's new tow-boat Robert Fulton will be launched from Dan Richards's ship-yard to-morrow evening at 2 P. M.

The Mercury, Arizona, and J. T. McCombs arrive at Nashville on Thursday.

The Evansville and Cairo Packet Company have now a daily line, composed of the following steamers: Ge-

The Atlantic and Mississippi Steamship Company held a regular meeting at St. Louis on Monday, when it was decided to make application to the Legislature of Missouri to increase the amount of stock from two millions to five millions. The value of the boats already will exceed the amount prescribed in the original charter. Capt. David Gibson made application to put two more boats in the line, and the owners of the Henry

The matter was laid over for the present. One thousand dollars each was voted to Capts. Phillips, Woolfolk, and Ford, for the services they performed as appraisers. The company meet in St. Louis next Monday for a general election of all officers connected with the line.

The Ids Handy was to arrive here last night from New Orleans. She is to return to that port Saturday evening.

The Carrie Jacobs and Annie Jacobs, now on the

The following steamboat case is now under trial in the Superior Court at Cincinnati:

Before Judge Fox—Daniel Collier, vs. Shirley & Woolfolk.—This action was brought to recover for barge hire. The plaintiff alleged that the defendants hired of him, on the 16th of December, 1863, two barges, at $10 per diem for each barge, for an indefinite period, and until returned. The sum of $1,287 was paid, and, it is claimed, the balance due, up to the time the action was brought in July, 1864, was $9,993. According to the plaintiff's statement, the boats are not yet returned.

For boats leaving, see advertisement column.
